Sub: U.S. President ban lobbyists gift disbursement to federal employees

Dear Director Mr. Fox,

I find that when a gratuitous gift or service is given the accepting party is obliged to the giver no matter how innocent the picture on either side.

The need for our federal employees to remain ever true to their oath and obligation as the first line of defense of, for, by, the common good of the American citizenship is indisputable.

The ban on gifts and services authorized by U.S. President Obama, along with applicability of said rules should be inclusive of the entire executive branch.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
