It's about time that the federal government lived by the same rules that corporate American lives by! This is long overdue. Why should a federal employee receive gifts, travel etc. while the tax payers are subjected to their wasteful spending. Congratulations to President Obama for having the fortitude to try and change the mentality that has gotten our country into a 2nd class state. As a middle class taxpayer I'm sick to death of way government employees feel entitled to spend my hard earned money.
