The value of $20 and $50 in 1992 has changed significantly over the past 23 years. The purchasing power for those amounts, considering inflation, now stands at $34 and $85 respectively.

Recommend the dollar thresholds be updated, or the rule be tied to a fixed value in time, with consideration of inflation as a contributing factor (e.g. "$20 gift is allowable (in 1992 dollars)").

Sincerely,

Nick
