The conference is focused on increasing information exchange on the human and environmental toxicology of engineered nanomaterials and regulatory perspectives on nanomaterials. The organizers will be using this conference as a means of educating a wide range of decision makers on nanotechnology. A key part of the conference is regulatory approaches to nanomaterials, including United States regulations. The EPA representative will be making a presentation on US regulatory approaches to nanomaterials. She will also attend the whole conference in which emerging trends and new applications of nanotechnology will be discussed. In addition, she will meet with other participants to discuss voluntary and regulatory approaches. NAME Tara Greaver	DESCRIPTION to develop a technical report on the cross-cutting issue of nitrogen-climate interactions in response to a request for such reports from the Development Advisory Committee of the National Climate Assessment (DAC-NCA). A timely synthesis of nitrogen-climate interactions would provide input for The National Climate Assessment (NCA) to be completed by the US Office of Science Technology Policy (OSTP) by 2013. In addition to a report submitted to the DAC-NCA, we anticipate that a version of the report will be published as a peer-reviewed monograph, and that an executive summary for policy makers would also be published in an appropriate venue. We will partner with Resource Media ( http://www.nitrogennews.com/ ) to develop effective presentations of the executive summary material, along with a variety of media outreach and communication strategies. NAME Juan Gutierrez	DESCRIPTION Interphex Puerto Rico is a large conference and trade show for the pharmaceutical manufacturing sector. The meeting is held in Puerto Rico since almost half of US pharmaceutical manufacturing occurs on the island of Puerto Rico. The meeting is a widely attended event by companies working in pharmaceutical manufacturing in Puerto Rico, mainland US and South and Central America. See: http://www.interphexpuertorico.com . The meeting is expected to be attended over 300 plant managers, personal, vendors, consultants, and others involved in pharmaceutical manufacturing. The meeting takes place on October 20 & 21.  I have been asked to speak and moderate a panel on energy efficiency and greenhouse gas management in pharmaceutical manufacturing sector. The meeting organizers, Reed Exhibition have offered to cover up to $644.30 in travel expenses (air fare and lodging). This offer has been made to all the speakers on the panel, which include representatives from pharmaceutical companies (Allergan and Schering Plough). The meeting organizers also waive registration fees for attending the conference and have offered to	LOCATION San Juan, Puerto Rico	REED Exhibitions	Common carrier transportation Meals Lodging Waiver of fees	X	X X X	$644.30 $20 $200 $595 secure reduced lodging rate (below government rate). The session that I have been invited to speak at is in the afternoon of 10/20/2011 and morning of 10/21/2011 .

Reed Exhibitions (www.reedexpo.com) is a for profit company that organizes fee-based conferences and trade shows. The company is a subsidiary of Reed Elsevier which is a major publisher of academic journals. Interphex Puerto Rico meeting is one of the conferences they organize. The Interphex Puerto Rico meeting is sponsored by several professional societies and trade associations, including the International Society for Pharmaceutical Engineering (ISPE).

Because of rising energy prices and growing concern about global climate change, the meeting organizers are interested in creating an energy management track. Because of the ENERGY STAR program's work with the pharmaceutical manufacturing sector, I was contacted to speak at this event because I am ENERGY STAR representative for Region 2. Because I also recommended some additional speakers, I have been asked to moderate the session.

The Interphex Puerto Rico provides an excellent opportunity to conduct outreach to plant managers of pharmaceutical manufacturing facilities. Over the past several years the ENERGY STAR program has developed several different resources for the pharmaceutical manufacturing sector. In fact, the main audience we are trying to reach are non-regulated business such as hotels, commercial buildings, and so on.

The meeting also provides opportunity to meet and outreach to companies that have not been involved with the ENERGY STAR pharmaceutical focus (see: http://www.energystar.gov/index.cfm?c=in\_focus.bus\_pharmaceutical\_focus). These types of companies include small pharmaceutical companies and contract manufacturers where it has been difficult to identify the right contact.

Participation in this meeting provides an important opportunity to gain further exposure for the ENERGY STAR program in the pharmaceutical manufacturing market and for Region 2. It also will enable the ENERGY STAR program to reach out to facilities in Puerto Rico which are an important base for the pharmaceutical industry but is a market that can be difficult to reach from New York City. It also is an opportunity to outreach and network with trade and economic development groups that work with Pharma sector in Puerto Rico. Because of high energy costs in Puerto Rico, there should be a strong incentive to use ENERGY STAR tools.

Participating in this meeting helps support several Agency initiatives:

NAME Bella Maranion	DESCRIPTION World Bank East Asia and Pacific Regional Meeting and Philippines Chiller Replacement Project Launch Workshop 1) World Bank East Asia and the Pacific Regional Meeting, May 18-20, 2011, Bangkok, Thailand: The World Bank Regional Meetings provide a forum for developing countries in the region to exchange information, experiences, and progress on their cooperative projects with the World Bank to meet their obligations to protect the stratospheric ozone layer under the Montreal Protocol. Country partners include: China, Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand, and Vietnam. Conducted at the regional level, the meetings builds on the country project manager's and team's skills for implementing and managing their national ODS phase-out activities and addresses emerging issues such as implementation of the accelerated phaseout of hydrochlorofluorocarbons (HCFCs), enforcing against illegal trade, the transition to alternatives in key sectors such as refrigeration and air-conditioning, and options for recovery and disposal. 2) World Bank/Philippines and Indonesia Chiller Replacement Project Launch Workshop, May 23, 2011, Manila, Philippines and May 26, 2011, Jakarta, Indonesia: The World Bank is working to accelerate the replacement of building chillers which use ozone-depleting chlorofluorocarbon (CFC) refrigerants to avoid emissions that damage the ozone layer. In addition, the transition to more energy-efficient chillers reduces energy use and potential impacts on climate. The World Bank has an ongoing project India. The purpose of this meeting and workshop is to continue planning and implementation for the chiller replacement project in the Philippines and Indonesia. Activities include meeting with potential project participants including building owners and equipment vendors, identifying training requirements, testing tools to calculate project costs and benefits, and officially launching the project through the workshop.	LOCATION THAILAND - BANGKOK; PHILIPPINES - MANILA, INDONESIA - JAKARTA	WORLD BANK	Common carrier transportation Lodging		X X	$4800 $800

NAME Walt Tunnessen	DESCRIPTION The International Bottled Water Association (IBWA) has invited me to speak at their 2011 Annual Business Conference	LOCATION Las Vegas, NV	International Bottle Water Association	Common carrier transportation Meals Lodging		X X X	$350 $40 $100

(<http://www.bottledwater.org/convention/schedule>) which is being held in conjunction with the Pack Expo conference, a major food processing & beverage industry meeting. IBWA has offered to cover travel expenses for participation in the meeting. The IBWA meeting is a widely attended event where several hundred participants representing over 100 different companies involved in the bottled water industry are expected to attend. I have been asked to give a presentation on the ENERGY STAR program for Industry, the ENERGY STAR Food Processing Focus initiative, and involvement of the bottled water industry in the ENERGY STAR Challenge for Industry. I currently manage the ENERGY STAR program's initiatives with Food and Beverage companies as well as the ENERGY STAR Challenge for Industry.

ENERGY STAR currently has several initiatives with different sub-sectors in the food processing and beverage industries. An important aspect of this work is the ENERGY STAR Challenge for Industry which challenges manufacturing sites to reduce their greenhouse gas emissions by setting a goal to increase energy efficiency by 10%.

The bottled water industry is interested in participating in the ENERGY STAR Challenge for Industry. My participation in their conference provides an opportunity recruit companies to take the Challenge and provide guidance on the steps required to take the Challenge for Industry. This meeting offers one of the few opportunities to meeting with key decessions in this industry.

The Challenge for industry is a relatively new initiative for ENERGY STAR and relies heavily on working with trade associations to help promote the Challenge to companies in their sector. The IBWA has recently set an industry goal to reduce Greenhouse Gases and believes that the ENERGY STAR program and Challenge can help their industry achieve this objective. This situation creates excellent timing from promoting the ENERGY STAR Challenge.

Reducing greenhouse gas emissions is a primary objective of the U.S. EPA. The ENERGY STAR program helps companies and consumers reduce greenhouse gas emissions from energy use.

Participation in this meeting provides EPA the opportunity to engage an industrial sector that falls outside traditional air regulatory initiatives (e.g. GHG BACT) in an initiative that can lead to GHG reductions. Participation also provides EPA with the opportunity to communicate that reducing GHG emissions can be cost effective and help preserve U.S. jobs. To date, the ENERGY STAR Challenge for Industry has documented over 7 trillion metric tons of GHG reductions through engagements with industry sectors in the food processing sector.

IBWA sponsorship of travel would provide EPA staff the opportunity to participate in this meeting and recruited new companies as well as a new sector in the ENERGY STAR program.

My talk has been tentatively scheduled (pending
